A friend writes us from England: We visited the simple tomb of William Wordsworth in Grasmere churchyard. The old church stood near it, among the ancient trees. The rapid Rotha passed the graves and the grand hills lifted their green domes in the cloudless

We had ridden past the poet tuned lakes of Windermere and Grasmere, with memories of Coleridge, De Quincey, Christopher North, Mrs. Hemans and Harriet Martineau, and had rested by Rydal Water in the shadows of Rydal Mount.

Papaw Vines For Luck.

The Rev. T. D. Witherspoon in a sermon at Paducah related an amusing story of his experience while evangelizing in the mountains. One day while passing a cornfield in Leslie county he was surprised to see long strings of papaw bark knotted together and tied to stumps. He asked his guide what it meant and was informed that it was "to bring luck."

"And does such a foolish superstition exist all over this community?" asked the minister.

"Oh, no," said the mountaineer; 'the old preacher over in the settlement yonder says papaw vines don't do no

A Polite Child.

Professor Sully, in an article in The Popular Science Monthly, commenting on the jenlous regard for ceremony and the proprieties of behavior as seen in the enforcement of rules of politeness by children, cites a delightful instance that fell under his own observation a he was walking on Hampstead heath. "It was a spring day, and the fat buds of the chestnut were bursting into magnificent green plumes. Two well dressed 'misses,' aged, I should say, about 9 and 11, were taking their correct morning walk. The elder called the attention of the younger to one of the trees, pointing to it. The younger exclaimed in a highly shocked tone, 'Oh, Mand, you know you shouldn't point!' The notion of perpetrating a rudeness on the chestnut tree was funny enough. But the incident is instructive as illustrating the childish tendency to stretch and generalize rules to the utmost."

Open Car Windows.

A correspondent writing of open car windows and the disagreeable draft from the same suggests that screens similar to those used in sleeping cars be provided for ceach windows, and that only trainmen be allowed to place or remove them. A lady writing to the same paper suggests original tactics by the person annoyed:

"Simply raise your umbrella or para sol in front of you, so that the wind, cinders, dust and smoke blow from your umbrella on the back of the neck of the person who sits by the window in front of you. A very few minutes suffice to convince this person that the wind is blowing harder than he thought and is very disagreeable and uncomfortable. So down goes the window, and also the umbrella, with a quiet smile of gratifude and content, with the result of self ### protection."--New York Tribune. To Make a Good Cup of Tes.

A young man who was being joked about the appearance of the young lady he was going to marry said in an apologetic way, "Well, she can make a good cup of tea anyhow." This is a qualification that not many girls possess. Very few know how to make a good cup of tea. Here are some pointers: Tea should never touch metal. It should be kept in paper, wood, glass or porcelain. To make it, put a small quantity in a porcelain cup, fill the latter with boiling water, cover it with a percelain saucer and let it stand three minutes Then, if you desire to be an epicure, lyink only the upper layer of the golden liquid, throw the rest away, rinse the cup and begin again. Never use sugsr. Do not use milk. It roins the flavor of the tea, and the combination injures he s'ernech, so the Chinese say, and hey eaght to know their own beverage.

Their Lands Can be Taxed. WASHINGTON, April 20.—Justice Brown delivered an opinion in the Supreme Court to-day in the case of the Central Pacific Railway Company vs. the State of Nevada, involving the right of the State to tax lands of the railroad company. The case came to the Supreme Court from the Nevada Supreme Court on a writ of error sued out by the railroad company. The State Court held taxes on unpatented lands; also on on which the cost of surveying had not been paid. Justice Brown's opinion affirms this decision.

A man with weak

could not escape it.

This is parily true and parily untrue. A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit that weakness to his children. But there is no reason in the world why the weakness should be allowed to develop. There is no reason why the lungs should remain weak. Weak lungs predispose a child to consumption. They provide a place for germs to settle. That is all that is necessary. Once let the germs of disease gain a foot-hold, and they increase with a deadly rapidity. Pretty soon the blood is full of them, and so loses its healthfulness and its strength-giving qualities. If the weakness is in some other organ, the disease will show itself in that organ. The germs will get into the blood, just the same, and the body will begin to lose strength. We speak particularly of consumption because it is most commonbecause it causes more than one-sixth of all deaths in the world.

If there is a weak and crumbly spot in the foundation of a house, the owner clears out the decaying material, supplants it with new, strong stuff. That's all there is to do. That's all that's necessary

That is exactly the thing to do with the lungs. Keep them full of rich, red, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear Decaying tissues will be thrown off, and new material will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again. This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure of per cent of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be in the body. It exterminates them completely and forces them out of the system It supplies the blood with rich, life-giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect. It supplies the needed nutriment to all the tissues and makes sound, healthy flesh.

It may be the mobbing of the snake been recorded? The explanation hes in the probability that it is a case of self

It is an error to suppose that will power has anything to do with the effect. The matter has been taken up scientifically by the medical profession and it has been found that the hypnotic state of aleep or trance, or whatever it may be termed, can be produced by looking fixedly at the operator or at a coin or at the tip of one's own nose. It is not necessary to go into the question of how the result is brought about, but there is a physiological explanation. What happens then in the hundredth case is that the man or the animal may be self hypnotized by gazing fixedly at the snake, the subject being thus thrown into a sort of trance, making no attempt to move out of danger unless rorsed by some exterior influence. —San Diego Cor. INDIANA BICYCLE Co., 18 & 20 McAllister St., San Francisco.

A good gold dust story is told on George Wilson, who owned the famous Paris mine in Park county, Mon. Wilson was visited by some Englishmen one day, among whom was an expert of the English pattern—one who knew all about mines and a great deal about everything else, in his own opinion. They wanted to see some of Wilson's gold, and he panned out some very fine colors for their edification. "But that isn't gold," pronounced the youthful expert, after a critical ex amination. "Me deah fellah, I am a graduate of the English School of Mines, and I know gold when I see 11, you know. That is iron."

Wilson didn't say much. He just leaned over and took the alleged expert confidingly by the shoulder: "Mebbe it isn't," he said, "but don't go and give it away to those fellows down at the Denver mint, for I have been selling this stuff to them for gold all along." Butte Mountain.
